There has never been a day that I didn't feel safe, because you were there to hold me in that special mother's way. The joy my heart savor from days gone by .. moments we celebrated with laughter and so many times you made me smile as you wiped the tears from my eyes. So much has been given .. so much has been shared .. you are my angel .. my friend and hero .. like superwomen you are always there. Love unconditional .. consistent as sure as the sun will set .. always in my corner .. no matter the circumstance. A perfect role model you will always be and on this day I want you to know .. "What a blessing you are to me!"
